Dear Parents,

Along with this information sheet we are sending you a copy of a daily prayer that could be prayed each day of CSW. It is just our way of convincing many people that CS is not only way to go but are convinced that it is the VERY BEST WAY to go. Please join in this daily prayer.

Monday, January 25th is our first day of Catholic Schools Week. We want you and your children to enjoy the week and profit from all the scheduled activities. We are indeed proud of the work that the children are doing and want them to continue learning all they are able to and also learn how to live their lives in the love of God. I know you realize that the above four stated dividends of Catholic Education will prove to be a life benefit to your children for many years to come.

Today, Monday, we are going to try our luck at being good baseball players by batting and making home runs by responding to math flash cards. Top winners will be announced in our next communication. As I type this, that information is not available. Good luck to each contestant.

Tuesday our Support Staff members will be honored by classes making cards for each support staff member.

This special Wednesday lunch, provided by our generous parents, and organized and being sponsored by our Home & School Organization. It truly is a very enjoyable event for our teachers and priests it is the only time that teachers are able to eat together. If you are members of another parish, know that your pastor has been invited to celebrate our Mass on Wednesday with our priests from Immaculate Conception. That Mass is scheduled for the regular time, that is, 9:15am. You are more than welcome to attend the Mass.

Scientists are in the making! Each of our mid-school students responsible for completing a science fair project. Work on this has been taking place for the past few months. It is always very encouraging to see the great work that our students accomplish in our present-day, ever-speculating, changeable scientific world.

Hats off to Reading is our theme for Friday night as we invite our parents and students to attend "Literacy Night." Just the creation of some of these fantastic hats proves to us that our students have great imaginations, indeed.

We will officially close Catholic School Week on Sunday, January 31st at a Parish Mass Immaculate conception at 9:00. We encourage you and your family to attend, if at all possible. We ask that our children wear their uniforms if they attend. We believe that gesture will be another indication of their being proud of their school and it certainly strengthens and confirms our conviction of the Catholic School great dividends----the four mention Faith, knowledge, offer Discipline, Morals. Do try to come as we would love to have you attend.
